New Bomb Plot Foiled; Nation-Wide Inquiry On

REDS OUIT PETROGRAD

EXPLOSIVE ADDRESS TO SENATOR

DIRECTED TO OVERMAN, WHO HAD CHARGE OF ESPIONAGE ACT.

PACKAGE MARKED "GIMBEL BROS."

Whole Country Being Combed For Further Evidence Of Conspiracies.

BULLETINS

New York, May 1.—Two bombs, one of them addressed to Senator Reed Smoot of Salt Lake City and the other to an unknown address in Utah, were returned to Gimbel's department store for additional postage and innocently remained Tuesday by a shipping clerk, postoffice inspectors learned today.

Salt Lake City, Utah,
May 1.—Information that a bomb mailed in New York Tuesday to United States Senator Reed Smoot at Salt Lake City was given to postoffice officials today by the Associated Press. Shortly thereafter official advices from the postoffice department reached here containing the same information.

New York, May 1.—A clerk at Gimbel's store who discovered the packages and turned them over immediately to the postoffice authorities said, that as he recalled the addresses, the names on two of the packages were those of Senator Smoot of Utah and Senator Cummins of Iowa.

Three more infernal machines mailed in the May Day plot to kill prominent men are reported to have been discovered at Gimbel's department store, having been innocently returned there by the postoffice authorities for additional postage. They are said to have been addressed to United States Senators.

Washington, May 1.—The postmaster at Salisbury, N. C., telegraphed the postoffice department today that a package containing a bomb similar to those found in New York had been received there addressed to Senator Overman.

The postmaster is holding the package acting chairman of the senate committee. Senator Overman is in charge of the espionage act and many other measures dealing with law enforcement during the war. He also chairman of the special senate committee investigating pre-German and radical propaganda.

Acted on the package addressed to Senator Overman the postmaster Salisbury acted in accordance with general orders issued last night to all clerks of the postal service to make every effort to prevent delivery of suspicious mail matter. It was said here that the Salisbury package bore the Himel Brothers mailing label and in every way resembled those discovered in New York.

The chief postal inspector got into communication with the Salisbury postmaster to learn something about the machine sent to North Carolina senator. Up to the time his report was received there had been no nighttime in mail matter as to other finds and some of the men in the inspector's department who had been on the job all night, expressed the opinion that practically the whole anarchistic outlet had been located.

Reports from every section of the country indicated that today a country-wide search still being made of the mails to other bombs. In last to a close watch was kept of all mail and the whole was being searched for suspicious mail.

Discouragement Reigns As City Fails To Reach Half-way Mark In Drive

TODAY'S FIGURES
Janesville's Quota ..... $825,000
Subscribed at 3 p. m. .... 405,350
The final lap ..... $420,650

Complete discouragement prevailed at Victory loan headquarters today, the fourth day of the intensive drive in Janesville.

With but a few more days to subscribe to raise the $825,000 quota and the half-way mark not yet reached, the optimism of the first two days of the campaign is wholly missing. Instead, discouragement is hanging over the place like a cloud.

Realize Seriousness
Rain combined with a damp cold today and yesterday added to the cheerlessness of the campaign. The reverses of the past two days, have wakened up the workers to the seriousness of the situation. They are now more than ever determined to push the city over the top.

An appeal to all solicitors to finish up their canvassing tomorrow and Saturday was issued today from headquarters. Those who have not yet been solicited are urged to come to headquarters to sign for bonds.

Buy More Bonds
The small investors in most cases have responded nobly to the call. The necessity of making as many, or more bonds than in previous loans is still the plea of F. E. Buss, city chairman, and Frank J. Green, assistant.

Two Meetings Tonight
Two public meetings are scheduled for this evening in the rural districts, one at the Malloy district school near Shopiere and one at Miss Frances Hunt's school near Milton.

Roy Cannon and Robert J. Quiring, will speak at the Shopiere meeting and Prin. Bassford at the Milton rally.

P. J. E. Wood will speak at the Milton rally.

Have A Drink
Tinged With Sadness

(BY H. M. W.)

"Have a drink," is tinged with sadness. Generosity of the heart has been hung out. The date for the funeral has been arranged.

The mourners are many. The day is dreary. Two cents multiplied by all one's friends makes a regular hole in one's pocket.

Old familiar "Come on lets have a malted milk" is gone but not forgotten. Today it goes, "I was just going in for a malted milk will see you later." So the world goes on.

While the world sleeps the ever alert penny hops on for a ride. You wake up the next morning and see two or three pennies hanging on the rings of all old and new vehicles.

Helsingfors, May 1.—Petrograd is being evacuated by the bolsheviks, reports from reliable sources say. Many of the inhabitants are being sent away and the bolshevik government is taking rigorous measures to prevent the news of the happenings at Olenez from reaching the people.

A Russian wireless message report-sheviki have carried out an advance on the front south of Archangel and that on the eastern front the Siberians have been driven back twenty miles in the region of Orenburg.

Bolshevik Withdraw

under allied pressure have withdrawn to new positions thirty miles west of Petrozavodsk, on the western bank of Lake Onega.

TUG SINKS; 16 PERISH

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Washington, May 1.—Two officers and 14 men of the crew of the naval tug Gypsum Queen were drowned when that vessel struck a rock and sank near Arden, off the coast of France, on April 28, while returning from a mission assisting a fleet of mine sweepers in distress.

Three of the sweepers, the Courtney, Douglas and the James foundered during a severe storm. All members of their crews and 17 officers and men of the Gypsum Queen were rescued by tugs and destroyers.

The mine sweeping convoy was returning to the United States from Brazil. When 8 hours off the coast ered severe weather and turned back.
Tugs and destroyers answered calls for assistance, but in spite of their efforts the three sweepers went down.
The Courtney at 2 p. m., April 27; the Douglas two hours later and the James at 11:50 a. m., April 28.

guilty today in the United States district court to a charge of embezzling $204,000 of the bank's funds. He was sentenced to 10 years imprisonment in McNeil's Island federal peniten-nets to handle pig iron here and at Newberry, Bay View City, Manitowish Marquette, with only two men, one for each magnet, is now loading a cargo of pig iron in time declared much shorter than a regular crew of longshoremen can accomplish. Members of the crew do the loading, it is said.

This Is May 1, But Where's W. K. Queen?

(BY HARRIETTE WHEATON.)

But who is queen of the May?
Whoever she is guess she was off duty last night or else dethroned in general run of things of the last year.

And speaking of May pole dances, Mrs. General Public says she is much more in the mood for a way dance.
May day dawned bright and early, the sun shone and the birds sang all the new spring flowers popping forth their perky heads, the winter-discharged birds singing psalms of joy, and everything, but no one was still seeing straight this morning, only one of those once-upon-a-time tales.

More Reconstruction.
Reconstruction days have gone the limit. Even the weather man has enlisted in the work for disabled clouds.
Crippled, broken, and hazy, the clouds are all collected in blue sky camps where they are being patched up for fairer weather. During the process of rehabilitation overflows and outbreaks are the rule of the day. Still they say the reconstruction period will cover several years.

But whoever heard of rain on the Fourth of July?
Anyway the 1919 May day arrived early, getting in an hour earlier than its old-time sisters, but it didn't dawn it dawned. The May kings didn't dance. But we can't tell you what they did do.

'Twas Different Then.
Automobiles skidded. Winter coats came back. Delavan tractor enthusiasts dethroned. The only people that were happy were the ducks.
Still one bright remark has been heard today in the midst of it all.

He calls up to know when that Delavan tractor demonstration is going to get a chance to express itself.
The "information bureau" says "it will be held on the first day it doesn't rain."

Then he refrains: "Did they say when that would be?"
As long as there is life there is hope.
The clouds are breaking. The day may dawn yet.

TRACTOR SHOW AWAITS BRIGHT DAY

The Walworth tractor demonstration scheduled to be held at Delavan today was again postponed on account of the rain. The demonstration will be held the first day it does not rain. This was the definite announcement from Delavan this morning.

Occasionally the broad avenues and the fine residential sections of our great cities see her. They are bright-dire poverty combine to wring the fin-

EXTRA! LAST MINUTE FLASHES

New York, May 1.—The main entrance of Madison Square garden where thousands of workers were assembled to take part in a May Day labor demonstration was stormed by about 150 soldiers and sailors in uniform this afternoon. While a provost marshal's guard formed a barrier, the service men who had declared their object was to "make the bolsheviks sing the Star Spangled Banner" were addressed by the police authorities and consented to disperse.

Agents of the department of justice expressed their belief that the infernal machines were of German origin and possibly imported from Germany.
They said that anarchists in this country could not obtain the fulminate of mercury used in the manufacture of the bombs.

Trotsky Calls Army
to Defeat Kolchak Copenhagen, May 1.—The soviet government of Russia is making extraordinary efforts to secure troops to carry out an offensive against the forces of Admiral Kolchak in eastern and southeastern Russia, according to a dispatch filed at Libau, Tuesday.
Leon Trotsky, the bolshevik minister of war and marine, has appealed to a dispatch filed at Libau, Tuesday, saying:

"It is necessary to defeat Kolchak within the shortest possible time."
It is planned at Moscow to mobilize 10 per cent of the members of the professional unions and 20 percent of the communists.

Versailles.—In a session beginning at 3:10 o'clock this afternoon and lasting barely five minutes, the German plenipotentiaries of the peace congress presented their credentials.
The German plenipotentiaries were presented to representatives of the allies and the United States.

Cleveland.—One man is dead, three police men were shot and probably two hundred persons were badly injured, a score or more of whom were in hospitals and more than one hundred persons were arrested up to 3 o'clock this afternoon as the result of a socialist bolshevik I. W. W. May Day demonstration which ended in a dozen different riots in the downtown section this afternoon.

The dead man was a bystander who was killed by an officer's bullet when the patrolman fired at a rioting marcher.

CROSS-SEA FLIGHT MAY START TODAY

St. Johns, N. F., May 1.—Chances for the start this afternoon of the trans-Atlantic flights planned by Frederick P. Raynham and Harry G.
Hawker were considered favorable at 1 p. m. with the prospect of virtually ideal weather conditions.

Meeting Held After Conferences

And Others.

(By Associated Press.)

Versailles, May 1.—The first official meeting between allied representatives and the German peace delegates will take place at 3 o'clock this afternoon. A committee from the allies and the United States will receive the German credentials at that time.

Italian's Envoys Meet.

Rome, Wednesday, April 30.—
The Italian delegation to the peace conference met late today under the chairmanship of Premier Orlando to consider the situation. The meeting came after conferences the premier had with the King and American Ambassador Page.

State Set for Parley.
Versailles, May 1.—The spacious dining room of the Hotel Trianon today received its peace congress installation—three long tables in horseshoe form, covered with the traditional green cloth of diplomacy and games of hazard. The installation is imposing in the size of each of the side tables which extend some 40 or 50 feet through the room. At the head of the apartment is a table about 35 feet long at which the representatives of the great powers will be seated with President Poincare or Premier Clemeau in the center.

Inside the horseshoe is another table covered with red plush and in the space between one side of the horseshoe and the windows is a similar table. In the window openings are a number of smaller square tables for secretaries.

Exact Date Indefinite.
This is a scene for the handing over of the terms of peace. The exact date of the ceremony has not been announced, but it is commonly assumed that it will be on Saturday.
The French government, however, has carefully obtained from naming the day, either to the public or to func-tionaries entrusted with arrangements and it is a fair presumption that this is due not only to the problem of the intervening time will be long enough to verify the credentials of the German plenipotentiaries, but also to the uncertainty whether the draft of the treaty can be drafted by Saturday. Questions relative to the adequacy of the powers of the German delegates and their qualifications to speak for Bavaria, which came to the front today may furnish an occasion for deferring the handing over of the treaty. Should a further delay be necessary, a preliminary meeting with the German delegates will occur, probably Friday. At this meeting their credentials will be submitted for examination by a commission headed by Jules Cambon of France.

Delegates Take Stroll.
All the German delegates, including Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, the foreign minister, were out for a brief stroll today. The afternoon was chiefly devoted to preparations for the congress. The Germans exhibit little curiosity in Versailles and passers-by rub elbows with the Teutonic visitors.

Paris, May 1.—While Paris and a great part of France was tied up today by labor's 24-hour general strike as a demonstration for better working conditions and changes in certain governmental policies, no disorders had been reported up to this afternoon.

GLORIFYING REVOLUTIONS.

For more than a century past an evil and fallacious doctrine has been taught in the public schools. Just recently American educators have awakened to the menace. It is what is known as "the right of revolution." Because the American revolution was right and necessary, the assumption has been made, very falsely, we should now realize, that some future revolution in this country might likewise be right and necessary. We have not been sufficiently alive to the menace of the red flag.

The colonists were justified in resisting to arms, it is true, but their justification is found in the fact that there was no other means by which they could right the intolerable wrong from which they suffered.
They had no voice in their own government. Generally speaking, any people that suffers grave injustice and has no voice in its own government is entitled to revolt. The Russian revolution was justifiable. A revolution in Turkey might be higher moral.
But there can be no possible justification for another revolution in the United States. The fathers realized the danger and the cost of this method of redressing grievances and they devised a system which they believed—and rightly, too—would forever do away with the necessity of putting evil men out of power by force of arms. This is what we know today as universal suffrage.

As long as universal suffrage exists in America there can be no excuse for civil war. Since we have in the ballot the peaceful means of effecting all needed reforms, revolution would be a crime. Then let us stop glorifying it. As long as we do glorify it, we shall simply be playing into the hands of the lawless elements.

THE MILK PRODUCERS.

Discussion of the government's stand in regard to milk producers' associations is given in the Orange Judd Farmer, in which it alleges that partially is shown labor to the detriment of the farmer. The article follows:
"The theory of American government and the basis of American character is a square deal for all. Right now our government is not giving a square deal, but is playing favorites to the gross injury of the American farmer."
"Labor unions are permitted, encouraged, and authorized by law to fix the rate of wages which shall be paid to all members of the union. This is collective bargaining and has the approval both of society and of the law."

One week a number of Illinois dairy farmers have been placed on trial in Chicago. The Milk Producers' association is charged with collectively fixing the price at which milk produced by its members shall be sold.
If true this in effect is exactly the same thing as fixing the wages for which members of labor unions shall work. The dairy farmer receives the wage for his labor from the price at which his product is sold. When he agrees collectively with others engaged in the same occupation that the wages received by him for his labor shall equal a certain amount he can only make that wage standard effective by fixing the selling price for the product of that labor.

"There is no distinction between the collective bargaining of a labor union for a wage scale for all of its membership and the collective bargaining of an organization of dairy farmers in order that they may likewise secure a uniform standard of pay for their labor."

"The dairymen have been indicted and are now standing trial for doing, in effect, exactly the same thing which the labor union is encouraged to do and which the law does under the protection of the law."

"This is gross discrimination between two classes of labor, and if the law of the land, as it now stands, permits of such discrimination then the law must be changed in one respect or the other. An organization of farm labor, whether we call it a Milk Producers' association or a 'Dairymen's Union' must have the same right of collective bargaining for a wage scale as is given to the plumber, the carpenter, or any other branch of unionized labor."

"If producing labor on the farm may not organize and collectively bargain for a uniform wage scale, then the right of collectively bargaining for a uniform wage scale must be denied to all other branches of labor.
The right of collective bargaining belong to all or to none."

FINANCIAL RELIEF.

The belief expressed several weeks ago that improvement in financial conditions would result in more activity and higher prices in the security markets has been amply justified, declares Henry Clews of the New York banking house bearing his name. The improvements have been summarized by Mr. Clews as follows:

1. Relief of business from pressure of war conditions.
2. Signing of peace treaty only a matter of settling final details.
3. End of war loans, and release of money hereafter for legitimate business.
4. Federal taxes have reached the maximum and must hereafter decline.
5. Consequent revival of long deferred enterprise and improvements.
6. Removal of many war restrictions, permitting return of foreign and domestic trade to normal conditions.
7. Failure of government policy fixing theories, and return of market freedom.

8. Wages have been generally advanced and the crisis induced by high prices is less acute.

9. Prospects of better understanding between labor and capital.

10. A season of great agricultural prosperity is anticipated, meaning good business for the West and South which in turn should stimulate railroad traffic in both sections.

11. Building is sure to be much more active owing to urgent demands for housing and office room which have often put rents up to excessive rates.

12. Railroads will be large buyers of rails, locomotives and cars to reset war wear and recent economies.

13. A special session of congress is expected in the latter half of May.
The new House promises to be more conservative than its radical predecessor; and there is a brighter outlook for saner and sounder legislation.

14. Public opinion is becoming less hostile to public service corporations, so that, despite a bad situation in local traction, the chance of securing fair compensation to offset higher wages and other expenses is much improved.

15. Foreign trade is expanding attenuatedly. March exports being $405,- 000,000, or $22,000,000 more than a year ago. Imports reached $267,000,- 000, or $25,000,000 in excess of the same period of 1918. The outlook for export trade is decidedly encouraging, since we shall soon have to ship large quantities of cotton, copper, oil, steel and other products to satisfy the imperative necessities of developed Europe. South America and Asia will also be liberal buyers in our markets.

16. Now that the black list and the license system have been practically abolished with all countries except Germany and bolshevik Russia, expansion will be more rapid and upon more natural lines; always, remembering, however, that the buying power of the warring nations has been gravely impaired, and that our exports will chiefly depend upon our ability and willingness to give credit.

17. Commodities, wages and credit have undergone a high degree of inflation, while securities have almost entirely escaped. This disparity will somewhat have to be adjusted, either by deflation at one end or inflation at the other; or possibly through both until a more normal balance is reached. Inflation of securities was of course prevented by monetary restrictions; also by the extraordinary uncertainties attending all profits whether of railroads, industrials or public utilities. War profits were never really reflected in market values. The outlook, however, now is that the railroads will do better; that many of the industrials will make larger earnings, and that even public utilities have a better chance of fair play.

18. The mania for government ownership is at a lower ebb than at any time since its birth. Through costly experience, also by deterioration in service of railroads, steamships, telegraphs and telephones, the country has gained lessons of incalculable value in socialistic theories.
Victory as have been the losses thus incurred, they have probably saved us from far more serious consequences had these properties been permanently taken over by the government.

19. Our security, money and foreign exchange markets, have been almost completely restored to normal freedom by removal of artificial war restrictions. This alone is more freedom and safety for personal judgment than was possible when transactions were subject to the prejudices of inexperienced or incompetent public officials.

20. The new congress should be brought to realize that government extravagance and unnecessary expenditures must stop. The whole world must, and will economize for some years to come before it can fill the vacuum of ordinary necessities, of which this country is the only nation possessing a surplus. Heroin lies much of our present great good fortune.

A majority of the small bond buyers have stepped right up to the counter and subscribed. Now it is up to the big fellows, the industrial plants and others that can afford to take large subscriptions.

If the weather along the Atlantic coast, where those ocean aviators are awaiting a chance to leap into the air, is anything like it is here, we do not blame them for holding off.

ON THE SPUR of the MOMENT

ROY K. MOULTON

My wife is a most remarkable woman. I have never told you much about her, but we might as well be acquainted, as we are already and everything. She can knock twenty years off her age any time, and do it at the slight expenditure of $18, which is something less than one dollar a year or about the same rate it costs to get a player piano on the installation plan.

I am younger than my wife by three days, which has always been a source of great amusement to myself at dinner parties, funerals and other social events in our neighborhood, where people talk about other people's ages and pass out little quips and bonbons. For 14 years I have been living on those three days.

Well, the other day she went to a hen party where the aggregate cost of makeup of the party was in the neighborhood of $750, and somebody there told her she looked not a day over 23.

She came home on the run, negotiated the stairs three at a time, and bursting into the apartment, gasped:
"Now, you big stiff, I've got something to tell you for the first time in 14 years, and I'm darned if I don't make you listen to it!"

It is feared the identity of the pros-brought out in the government's new slogan, "Own your own home." In order that nobody may consider him-amended to read, "Own your own

A Fine Investment is the Victory Loan

The Victory Loan will pay you 4% percent income. This is by far the highest rate paid on any of your government war bonds.

You can make your payments in small installments, and have ten months in which to settle for your investment. Heretofore, payments were completed in six months.

The security back of the loan is your government's unqualified promise to pay back every dollar's worth of property of every kind in the United States.
You will not have to pay any federal income tax, state or local taxes on your bond.

If you wish you can exchange the 4% bond for one having 3 1/2% which is free from every other tax except inheritance tax.

Your investment will absolutely be returned to you in cash at 100 cents on the dollar in four years (possibly three years) with interest meanwhile semi-annually.

If you have not already subscribed, we urge you to do so at once.

REAL GLORY.

You can do a lot of clever things and not be truly great.
You can paint a pretty picture and still stain your soul with hate.
You can hoard up gold and silver till your time of life shall end And still remain unhonored here and never have a friend.

You can live your generation through and not become a man.
You may build a great cathedral and still fall the Master's plan; You may be a skillful workman and the totem heights may gain But still if that is all you do your life is spent in vain.

For the things which make for greatness are not born of power and skill.
The tyrant with his conquering troops remains a tyrant still.
And the sculptor with his chisel and the poet with his pen, Must find their glory not in works, but how they lived as men.

COLD AND RAINS CONTINUE DELAY TO WORKING SOIL

Warm, sunny weather is needed. Wet soils and low temperatures of the past several days have delayed spring planting to such an extent that farmers are beginning to regard the present season as one of the latest in years.

During the last week, says W. P. Stewart, meteorologist of the Milwaukee weather bureau, in his department of agriculture, in the Wisconsin for the week ending Tuesday, slow vegetable growth and delayed field work predominated.

There was more sunshine than for some time past, but general showers and the frequent freezing of the ground prevented the soil from drying out. Plowing and planting progressed as fast as weather and soil conditions permitted and in a few localities considerable spring wheat and oats were sown.

The planting of early garden truck is being general and locally during the first part of the week a large number of Victory gardeners were tilling and planting.

All reports indicate fruit conditions favorable, with the exception of some damage to currants by frost in Walworth county. Plums and cherries are blooming as far north as Dane county and are beginning to show in the northern limits of the state.

Though freezing temperatures and killing frosts occurred on three or more nights, there was no great damage done as vegetation in general was not sufficiently advanced to be injured.

No injury at all to fruit trees was reported. From up to fruit trees were reported. From up to fruit trees were reported. From up to fruit trees were reported.

Winter rains and grasses, though growing slowly look up are also in such a condition. In some localities fields have been turned into pasture.

GIANT ARMY TANK HERE TO AROUSE INTEREST IN LOAN

One of the giant tanks used so successfully in the war is expected to arrive in Janesville sometime this afternoon. A. E. Matheson, publicity chairman, announced today. Experienced men will be on hand to exhibit the machine.

"If our plans do not fail, it will be on exhibition in the city tomorrow," said Mr. Matheson. We are told we can have it the country as long as we want it.

Any campaign committee in the country desiring the tank for exhibition purposes in connection with the Victory loan drive should communicate with campaign headquarters here and arrangements will be made to ship it.

WILL TAKE UP BORDEN CASE AGAIN MONDAY

After an all-day session in the F. G. Borden Co. bankruptcy case in the Borden warehouse office here yesterday morning, the taking of testimony will be resumed at that time before C. F. Lamb, referee in bankruptcy, at his office in Madison.

That it will take at least a week's time to complete the testimony in the case was the prediction made at the close of yesterday's hearing.

N. C. Cullen, president of the corporation, and Miss N. Roach, bookkeeper, were again placed on the stand yesterday and asked to explain the accounts and the method of tabulating the various tobacco contracts.

They were questioned by the creditors' attorneys: Charles Pierce, Janesville, Ralph W. Jackman, Madison, Sanderson and Poque, Portage, James Clancy, Stoughton and Ray Graves, Sparta.

M. G. Jeffris and M. O. Mount appeared for the defendant corporation. Several farmers, financially interested in the outcome of the proceeding, were also in attendance.

RUSH REMODELING WORK AT Y. M. C. A.

Remodeling of the Y. M. C. A. is proceeding rapidly and it is possible that the major portion of the work will be completed by the middle of the month. A door has been cut on the high street side of the building in the rear, opening into the main room.

Although there has been practically no difficulty in placing service men during the past six months, the day will be observed in the city. Citizens can aid by notifying returned soldiers and sailors in other cities of the advantages in Janesville and of the many positions open.

CHURCHES TO OBSERVE EMPLOYMENT SUNDAY

Employment Sunday will be observed in local churches Sunday. President Wilson and William B. Wilson, secretary of labor, and people will be urged to co-operate with the local labor bureau in securing positions for returned soldiers and sailors.

CONSTRUCTION WILL START IMMEDIATELY

"We will start work immediately," J. P. Cullen said today in speaking of the construction of the second big unit of the Sanborn Tractor plant, which was awarded to him yesterday.

"I have no idea how many men will be employed but we are going to get all that will be necessary. Practically means all the men available."

Vacations As Usual is Postoffice Ruling

Vacations with pay as usual is the rule for postal employees, which brings joy to the hearts of the two discharged soldiers who have again taken up their duties at the local postoffice.

The order from Washington came this morning that the annual leave for postal employees who had been in military or naval service during the war be the same as for those who had been in the postal service.

"Hello" From Hotels Goes Without Frills

Hotels, apartments, houses, clubs, and similar institutions shall not charge any guest, tenant, or member for telephone messages from stations accessible to the general public in excess of that charged for such service at the public pay stations in the same exchange.

Municipal Court Fines Total $332 For Month

April was a big month for fines in the Janesville Municipal court. A total of $332 was collected for crime and court and municipal fees amounting to $47.02. Judge Maxwell's report for the month was filed today with City Clerk, Victor E. Hemming.

NAME DR. WAUFFLE TO POLICE BOARD

Dr. Guy C. Wauffle yesterday was appointed to the Board of Police and Fire Commissioners by Mayor Thomas E. Welsh to succeed Francis C. Grant, whose five-year term expired today.

Dr. Wauffle, in a letter to Mayor Welsh today, accepted the appointment.

Mr. Grant completed his term and did not seek reappointment as his duties as a member of the Board of Education did not permit.

With the acceptance of Dr. Wauffle to the Police Board, the board is complete for at least three years more. Harry O. Nowlan was made a member of the board a week ago upon the resignation of its president, Wilbur E. Clark.

Other commissioners are John P. Cullen, J. J. Kennedy and J. J. Kelly.

TAKE UP PROBLEM OF UNEMPLOYMENT

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] St. Louis, Mo., May 1.—While the United States Chamber of Commerce today dealt with a mass of reports and resolutions designed to mold the policies of America's business, the Association of Commercial Club Secretaries, which met here today, took up the problem of unemployment among returned soldiers.

Robert H. Manley, of Omaha, told the conference that it was becoming increasingly difficult for industries to absorb returned soldiers and recommended organizations.

The convention will conclude its business tonight on action on resolutions regarding an extraordinary session of congress, demanding a return of the government's supervision and dealing with a score of other problems declared to be obstructing industry.

The chambers was expected to amend its railroad resolution to make consolidation of all roads into a number of big systems compulsory instead of merely giving permission to consolidate. This suggestion was made by director-general Hines who in an address said he favored private management with rigid government control.

LYMAN KIMBALL SPEAKS ON "SPRUCE DIVISION"

In the extemporaneous contest at the high school this morning, Lyman Kimball was the only participant. He drew as his subject, "The Spruce Division."

He explained how spruce was the only wood that was fitted for airplanes and how the allied powers got most of their supply from a strip of land running from northern California up to Alaska. The work of the men who prepared the wood was as vital as the men who fought in the trenches and Kimball brought out this fact in a clean, precise manner. His talk was not only delivered in excellent style, but highly interesting as well.

His alumni medal will be awarded him for one year.

St. Paul Ry. to Plank Crossings in City

The Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway company is planning the immediate installing of new plankings on all its crossings in the limits of the city. A carload of material is enroute to the city and placement gangs on the work as soon as the plankings arrive.

U. S. TRANSPORT TO BE NAMED BY SOUTHERN WOMAN

Miss Florence Marshall Gray, a society leader in Marion, Kentucky, the home town of the late Senator, Ollie James, has been chosen by the navy department as sponsor for a transport soon to be launched. The ship will be named the Ollie James in honor of the late senator.

Miss Gray had been a friend of Senator James since her childhood.

NAME 3 DELEGATES OF LOCAL WAR VETS TO NATIONAL MEET

Janesville's chapter of the American War Veterans will be well represented at the first big annual national meeting of service men of the great war, soldiers, sailors and marines, to be held at St. Louis Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week.

At the meeting held last night by the local chapter it was the unanimous decision to have the organization here well represented and Edward Leary, Attorney at Law, J. Cunningham and City Clerk Victor E. Hemming were selected as delegates. They will leave Wednesday night.

Chairman Edward Leary of the dance committee reported matters as highly favorable for the military ball, to be given Tuesday night at the armory. Sale of tickets has lagged the past few days but a specially appointed committee tomorrow and Saturday is expected to dispose of the entire batch on hand. E. J. Sarsel, Thomas Cronin and Oscar Hammarlund will work on the ticket sale particularly.

Chairman Leary announced the appointment of a special committee on decorations. It is composed of William Joyce, David Sullivan, Leo Leonards and Arthur Welsh.

Secretary Hemming read a communication from Colonel Salzman of Madison, chairman of the state assembly, which said that a total of 35 chapters or locals, for want of a better name, had been organized in the state and that 25 to 30 more were at present in the embryo.

Edgerton News

Edgerton, May 1.—An exciting runaway occurred yesterday afternoon when a team of horses dashed down Front street. The team was driven by E. Rousch, who lives on the highway. In some manner the wagon became unmanageable. Mr. Rousch stayed in the wagon but was unable to stop the team until one of the horses fell when they got as far as Henry street. At that time the driver jumped out and ran to the street to the other side of the street where he was able to keep out of the way and no one was injured.

Lee Alder, who is from Edgerton, during the week at Fond du Lac, during his work this summer. Frank Schmelling accompanied him and assisted with the loading.

Intosh, and Beatrice Holton entertained for Miss Dorothy Babcock Tuesday evening. Miss Babcock departed for California last evening.

A picture entitled, "Under Four Flags," will be displayed at the Lyric theatre Sunday evening at 8:30 under the auspices of the local council of defense. The proceeds will be devoted to the Red Cross.

DOWNTOWN GARAGE ENTERED BY THIEVES, WHO TAKE 1919 CAR

A new 1919 Studebaker was stolen from the garage of J. A. Strimple on East Milwaukee street some time during last night or this morning. Though the city and adjoining country has been scoured by the police and the sheriff's office no trace of the machine has been found.

A back window, pried up, gave ingress to the thieves. They picked out the best and newest machine on the floor and evidently knew automobiles for they passed up a number of valuable cars.

Evidently planning a fast and long trip they saw that the gasoline tank was filled to overflowing. Fuel was drawn from other machines in the garage.

The machine was the property of the Nelson Motor Car Co., of Madison and had been stored for the night at the garage by an agent who had been demonstrating a trailer.

The automobile had a Wisconsin dealer's license tag, star No. 30.

ST. PATRICK'S FIVE CINCHES CUP WINNING FROM PRESBY, 35-29

CHURCH LEAGUE STANDINGS
W	L
St. Patrick's	10 1,000
Presbyterian	4 2,660
Congregational	4 3,571
English Lutheran	3 4,428
First Lutheran	2 4,333
St. Mary's	2 4,333
Methodist	1 6,143

In one of the most hotly contested games of the 1919 church basketball league, St. Patrick's quintet defeated the Presbyterians, 35 to 29, thereby clinching the Gazette cup. Intense playing by each side caused an unusual amount of excitement among the large gallery of fans.

The English Lutherans grabbed fifth place in the league winning from the Methodists by a 26 to 16 count. It was the sixth and last defeat for the Methodists.

Cassidy and Kober again starred for St. Patrick's, the former getting 8 ringers and 5 free throws and the latter a field goal. Townsend held Vinny to 1 basket. Fire, McVicar and St. John shone for the Presbyterians, kept the Catholics stepping high the whole route.

The Catholics started off strong and scored 12 points in the first few minutes of play. The score stood 17 to 10 at the intermission with the Presbyterians on the inside of the count.

Referee Powers had a big job on his hands seeing all the fouls.

British Musicians Are Taught How to 'Jazz,' But Cat Could Not 'Savvy.'

London, May 1.—There is a great demand for jazz musicians just now. Small jazz bands are being formed by the score, and instrumentalists who are not of being musically eccentric find it easy to obtain a post.

A representative of the Evening Standard attended a rehearsal of a new jazz band in the West End recently.

There were five musicians—all new to the work—and they were being trained by an expert from America. The band consisted of two trombones, a trumpet, a piano and a drum.

"Play this through," said the expert, handing out copies of a piece called "The Firework Melodrama."

The band played it solemnly, in the polite method of a high-class quintette.

"Now I'll show you how to jazz it," said the American.

He took away the music and told the band to play as much as they remembered. He showed one of the trombonists how to hold a tin snare, open at the mouth of his instrument.

"That is how you get the real road noises," he explained.

He demonstrated to the pianist how he was to do the runs and scales with his thumb only, and had the front taken out of the piano, "to give him every chance."

He had a few minutes' conversation with the clarinet player on the subject of waltzes and mazurkas.

The work was followed by a brief conspiracy with the drummer who went out and borrowed a motor-horn and two handbells, the notes of which were a matter of conjecture.

"Now," said the expert from America, "play it through once more."

At the top of the building was a cat belonging to the housekeeper. The latter said that she found the cat four streets away after the rehearsal. It had a dazed expression on its face and was looking thoughtful ever since.

"By observing these simple rules," the expert said afterward, "almost any five competent bandmen can be made into a jazz band."

One Day Strike Order Observed in Ireland

NYE'S BILL TO EXEMPT BUILDING IS DYING

Madison, May 1.—The Nye bill to exempt building improvement, made this year from taxes until 1925, has been recommended to death by the joint finance committee.

"I do not intend to make any further fight for this measure," said Senator Ray J. Nye. "I offered the bill, because I believed it would be a benefit to the building industry. There seems to be no disposition by the legislature to make exemptions."

The bill will come up for final action Friday, but will die without a struggle. The measure provided that the assessed valuation of real estate, as the same appears upon the assessment rolls of the various towns, cities and villages on June 1, 1919, shall not be increased prior to the making of such assessment rolls for the taxes to be paid in 1925, by reason of any structure erected, or improvements, repairs, alterations, additions or betterments made upon such real estate subsequent to January 1, 1919, provided that the actual work of such construction shall have commenced on or before Jan. 1, 1919 and before June 1, 1922.

Champagne Battlefield Next to Verdun In Hearts of French, Says Mrs. Ward

LETTER NO. XII.

By MRS. HUMPHREY WARD.

The Marne, Verdun, Champagne—it is in connection with these three names that the French war consciousness shows itself most sensitive and most profound, just as the war consciousness of Great Britain vibrates most deeply when you test it with those other names—Ypres, Arras, the Somme, Cambrai.

And as is the name of Ypres to the Englishman, so is that of Verdun to the Frenchman, invested with a more poignant significance, since the countryside where so many sons of France laid down their lives was their own adored motherland, invaded by the invader, and as those grim water-trenched fields north and south of the Meuse road could never be to a Lancashire or London boy.

No other French battlefield wears for a Frenchman quite the same aureole that shines forever on those dark river hills of Verdun. But it seemed to me that in the feeling of France, Champagne came next—next to the battle administration first of all with Castelnau's victory in the autumn of 1915, then with Gen. Nivelle's tragic check in 1917, with the serious crisis in the French army in May and June of that year, and finally with Gen. Gouraud's brilliant successes in the summer and autumn of 1918.

Stores of the Germans. Six weeks ago I found myself in Strasbourg, where Gen. Gouraud is in command of the 4th Army now stationed in Alsace. Through a long and beautiful day we had driven south from Metz, across the great fortifications of that town; with its endless trenches and wire fields, its camouflaged roads, its railway stations packed with guns, its ammunition dumps, its battery emplacements, which Germany had prepared for the outset of the war and which still awaited the Americans last November, had the allies' campaign not ended when it did.

There was a bright sun on all the wide and lovely landscape, on the shining rivers, the flooded spaces and the old towns, and magnificent clouds lay piled about the purple Vosges, to the south and west. We caught up a French division on the march with long lines of lorries, artillery wagons, guns and field kitchens and as our car cut through up with it in passing through the small towns and villages, we had ample time to notice the behavior of the country folk, and the reception given to the troops.

Nothing, it seemed to me, could have been warmer and more spontaneous.

neous, especially as soon as we crossed the boundary of Alsace. The women came running out to their doorsteps, the children formed a tumultuous escort, men and women peered smiling at the countrymen, and the tradesmen left their counters to see the show.

Metz Remains Cold. At Metz I was conscious of a hostile and bitter element in the town, not to be wondered at when one remembers that Metz has a population of 26,000 immigrant Germans out of a population of less than 70,000. But in the country towns of Alsace and Strasbourg itself my own impression, for what it is worth, was everywhere an impression of solid and natural rejoicing in the new order of things.

That there are a large number of Germans in Strasbourg and Alsace generally is of course quite true. There were some 450,000 before the war, out of a population of rather more than 2,000,000, and there are now, at a rough estimate, about 300,000, of whom nearly 100,000 are to be found in Metz and Strasbourg.

The whole administration of the two provinces, with very few exceptions, was a German administration imported from Germany, and up to the outbreak of the war, the universities and the schools—i. e., the teaching profession—were German, and many of the higher clergy. The leading finance of the provinces was German. And so on. But I cannot see any doubt that the real feeling of the native population in the two provinces, whether in town or country, has remained throughout these 48 years strongly and passionately French.

Alsace Is Confident. "Since when did you expect the French to come back?" asked M. Mirman, the present commissioner of the French republic, Metz, of an old peasant whom he came across not long ago on an official inspection. The old man's eyes kindled. "Depuis toujours," he said, "I know it would come back. I was afraid it might not come till I was dead, so I used to say to my son, 'If I am dead, and the French come back you will go to the cemetery, you will knock three times on my grave—shall hear!' And my son promised."

My present concern, however, is not with the Alsace-Lorraine question, as to which I hope to say a good deal more in a future letter, but with the brilliant army commander who now occupies what used to be the headquarters of the German army corps which held Alsace.

My acquaintance with him was due to a place of audacity on my part.

Tales of the Friendly Forest

Awake, awake! It's early morn'g. Don't stop to wink your eyes or yawn. The morning glories are open again, And the grass is wet with the dewy rain. Hurry and dress for the day has begun, And the sky is bright with the merry sun.

This is the song the graphophone sang all by itself, and of course the two little rabbits woke up and pretty soon they were dressed and ready for breakfast. And then they went out.

to the barn to see the little pig they had brought home with them the night before, as I told you in the last story.

Well, when they reached the barn and unlocked the door they found the Old Red Rooster sitting on the wheelbarrow telling his favorite story to the little pig. And as I don't believe he ever told it to you, I'll let you peek in through the door and hear what he says.

"Once upon a time, not so very long ago," the Old Red Rooster began, "there was a motherly old hen who sat on thirteen white eggs. And after she had kept them warm for maybe twenty-one day and a half, thirteen little chickens came out of the shells, and one of them was me. Well, day by day we grew and grew until, by and by, I was able to crow, but not very well, not nearly as well as I can now," and then the Old Red Rooster flapped his wings and said "Cock-a-doodle-do," and woke up the old owl, who got dreadfully angry, for he had been hunting for mice all night and was tired out.

"Well, as I was saying," continued the Old Red Rooster, "when I grew big I made up my mind to see the world. So one day I left the old farm and started off by myself, and after a while I came to Bunyville, where I met Mr. Lucky Leftfoot and he hired me to take care of his little garden and mow the grass in the summer time and rake up the leaves in the autumn. But I got tired of that pretty soon, so I became a conductor on a railroad, and after that I was a letter carrier for Aunt Columbia and delivered letters to all the little bunnies in Rabbitville. And after that, why, I came back to Dear Uncle Lucky, and—here I am!" and then the Old Red Rooster flapped his wings again and said "Cock-a-doodle-do" three times and a half.

And when he finished he looked around and saw Uncle Lucky and Bally Bunny standing in the doorway, so he picked up a hoe and went out into the garden to work.

"Now you can do whatever you like except dig up my vegetables and flowers," said Uncle Lucky to the little pink-nosed pig. "But please to remember to let my lollypops alone until they are ripe. Then I'll give you some." Well, the little pig promised, and after that he went up on the front porch and lay down in the hammock and listened to the mother sparrow teach her little birds the alphabet. And in the next story, if the ham-

Cor doesn't break and let him roll off the porch, I'll tell you what happened after that.

At Very Small Cost
this house was made attractive and permanent

The beautiful house in the picture was once an old frame residence, but with the aid of Kragstone Stucco it was made practically new at little expense.

We can remodel YOUR building in the same manner. We can make any old frame or brick house or garage into a handsome stucco structure that everyone will admire—that will be fireproof and permanent. This wonderful material—Kragstone—is a magnesite stucco; it does not check or crack or discolor. You can have your choice of any color or finish; phone us and we'll arrange to show you samples.

BRAVE AMERICANS

Portraits of Medal Winners. Made at the Front by Official Portrait Painter of the A. E. F., JOSEPH CUMMINGS CHASE.

Sgt. Wm. A. Hartman, Co. P, 107th Engineers, 32nd Division. We have the very best brand of TNT and the wire with which he knows how to fasten the explosive to any little thing that would be better somewhere else than here. In his right hand, behold the fuse for setting off the TNT! At midnight, August 4th, 1918, he was sent out to examine the Ypres river front near Fismes for a location for pontoon bridges and for material for making these structures. The patrol accompanying Sgt. Hartman under heavy machine gun fire, was scattered. Hartman continued on his own initiative and entirely without orders, started the actual construction of pontoon bridges. His indefatigable determination made the reconnaissance a complete success. He's just as happy as he looks and his distinguished Service Cross helped that smile. (Copyright, 1919.)

Soldies' Letters

Pvt. Frank C. Shultz. The following letter was received from Pvt. Frank C. Shultz, Co. C, 391st field signal battalion, A. E. F., by H. H. Bliss: "Velempy, France, April 2, 1919. "Dear Friend: I suppose you think that we are surely on our way by now but no such 'misfortune' has befallen us yet. We are still in Velempy where we have been since Jan. 1, and the Lord only knows how much longer we will stay here. Our corps, the sixth, is now supposed to be in the army of occupation. There has been no month set for our sailing. This battalion is attached to the sixth corps headquarters and not to any division, so we may go home as a casual unit. I expect to be home by the first of June, but my calculations may be way off. "The weather here the past few days has been fair. It freezes pretty solid at night but is warm during the daytime. About four days ago we had a had snow storm. More snow fell in 24 hours than we had all winter, about half of it has disappeared. "Our work now is composed of calisthenics, drills, K. P. and other details. We have first call at 6 a. m., I never did mind getting up at 8 at home, but it seems, oh, so early now. The clocks were set ahead an hour the first of March, so it is really only 5 o'clock, but it is pretty light. "I am feeling fine and I hope this letter finds you all the same. News is scarce these days. Please remember me to the fellows. "Hop to be with you soon, I am, as ever, your friend, FRANK."

A CHANCE TO LIVE

ANNIE'S CHOICE.
Annie thought. She looked at Aunt Maggie and her clothes. She looked round the room. Everything in it was ideally luxurious to Annie. From the narrow bed with the "sham" cotton, with a quilted "B" in red cotton and the clean, white spread, to the marble-topped bureau with the long glass, and the "stationary" washstand in the corner, where you could get both hot and cold water by just turning a tap—all the furnishings were exactly what Annie longed for and resolved to have when she grew up. At her house, if you wanted hot water, you had to heat it on the stove. And if you wanted to look at the bottom of your skirt you had to climb on a chair and peer into a cracked glass in a dresser.

"I think," said Annie soberly, finishing her appraisal of the room. "I'd rather be you and live in a place like this. Don't you have to be rich, Aunt Maggie, to live in a place like this?"

Annie was remembering also the dresses Aunt Maggie had bought her, and the things at Christmas, and the bags of candy in the desk drawer. Annie's sense of money values, the vague, undefined, but the most money she had ever seen in her life at one time.

"I got paid twelve dollars where I work," said her aunt, "but my friend here," she had her hand on the keyboard of the typewriter—those shiny white discs with letters and figures that fascinated Annie so—"my friend here often helps me to make sixteen."

Annie's eyes became saucers of wonderment. Sixteen dollars a week! The sum was too large, of course, to be grasped fully, but it represented an initial wealth. From that moment Aunt Maggie stood in Annie's mind for Greatness and Success.

Annie got up and timidly touched the glossy sides of the machine that made this vast property possible. Thoughts were rushing pell-mell through her awakening mind. How had Aunt Maggie learned to do this wonderful thing? Did Aunt Maggie do it? Why hadn't her mother done it?

STRAW BRAID IS NEWEST TRIMMING

By ELOISE.
The current season seems to be one of elegant trills, exquisite fabrics and conspicuous simple lines. All of which means that the fashionable frock will cost a great deal of money this year. Elegant trills are more costly than the yellow and blue for some of the more common things used for trimming have soared skyward and remained there. It is only a shade of French blue trim the sleeves, blouse and skirt and give superb finishing touch to the whole. The hat worn with the frock is French blue hemp with wings to match.

SIDE TALKS

Half The Truth.
What a dreadful thing it is to tell half of an unkind truth about anyone and then leave your hearers to fill in the rest.

Here's an example of the sort of thing I mean.

Some years ago at a small summer place where I was staying was a young married woman whose husband was away on business. She had no children nor household cares, and there being no war work then to take up her energy, she was naturally very restless. In the middle of the summer there appeared at our little inn a young man who had come to spend the rest of the season for his health's sake. Inevitably the two were much together. They walked, sang, and rode and read poetry together. There was nothing secretive or in any way clandestine about their companionship—it was just a case of any where that Mary went the man was sure to go.

The Husband Didn't Mind.
Of course, there was some talk as to whether he made seemed to have no objection to the friendship and I don't believe the talk would have amounted to anything if it had not been for one of those half truths.

The woman who had the room next to the young married woman uttered it. We were discussing as to how deeply impressed the young man in the case was.

"If you had heard what I had," she said, "you'd think it was pretty serious."

Of course, being woman born of woman, we wanted to know what she had heard.

She Didn't Believe In Starting Gossip.
But there she stopped. "I don't believe in talking and starting gossip," she said righteously.

As if anything in the world could have started more gossip.

Indeed, it started so much gossip that a divorce nearly occurred. Now perhaps someone is thinking that the whole truth might have been just as troublesome. I happened to be in a position, from some information which came to me recently, to combat that idea. The woman was simply overheard some confidences between the young woman and a girl who was visiting her about some fluttering things the young man had said. More perhaps than he should have said but nothing to start the storm of gossip season's features, the simple lines, one had long had to pay a big price to have a gown built effectively on simple lines.

Half Truths Are Cowardly.
There is nothing in the world more cowardly or mean than an insinuating half truth. If you must speak at all for Heaven's sake tell the whole truth. One sometimes does this sort of thing folds over the lips. The blouse is unconsciously, I think. The other day I spoke slightly of a doctor. I would not tell why I disliked him and the inference might easily have been that he had given me treatment of an unsatisfactory nature. Which wasn't at all the case. So I hastened to tell the whole truth.

There's something indefinitely healing about the whole truth, isn't there? Even if like many healing measures it is sometimes painful at the first.

Heart and Home Problems

BY ELIZABETH THOMPSON.
LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO MRS. THOMPSON, IN CARE OF THE GAZETTE.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I was engaged to a young man who had an unpleasant disposition. At first I loved him, but he putted a disagreeable so much that I broke my engagement. He seemed to be heart-broken and begged me to become engaged again. I forgave him and we tried all over again to get along. He was very angry and had to break it off every time because we could not get along without quarreling. I got sick and tired of the whole affair and started to go with another young man. He is very different and has a fine disposition.

Now the first young man feels terribly. He is working hard and saving money in hopes that I will forgive him and we can be married soon. I do not love him, but I am interested to see him do the right thing. If I discourage him I am afraid he will give up and never amount to anything.

Do you think it is my duty to stick to the first young man for his sake when I do not enjoy his company?

ROSE.

If the young man has no backbone enough to get along without your support now he never will amount to anything. Let him get along as best he can alone since you have decided you would be an annoyance to you. When you were friends your influence did not help.

It may be that when he sees he has lost you he will try all the harder. Then you can accept him as a friend and enjoy him.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Will you please tell me something that I could do to take away blackheads? Also a treatment which will prevent them from returning?

Could you tell me if Dr. — is considered a reliable physician?

BESSIE.

Lotion for blackheads: Pure brandy, two ounces; cologne, one ounce; liquid potash, one-half ounce. Apply at night after washing the face thoroughly with soap and water.

The best way to keep blackheads from returning is to wash the face thoroughly with warm water and soft soap every night before retiring. Also do not eat rich or sweet foods.

It is against the policy of this column to comment upon a physician's qualifications. Consult your family physician. If he does not already know the beauty doctor's reputation he will make inquiries for you.

In reply to S. P. V. B.: Your husband cannot do anything because you spent the money he left you. You were entitled to both the money he left and the allotment since you had not got a divorce.

There are some doctors who are not honest in their practice. They misrepresent and overstate in order to make a case and get more money. It is not probable that the patent remedy would have helped you so much if the doctor's diagnosis had been true. Consult a specialist and tell him about the case from beginning to end. Let the doctor's advice guide you in the course you take. Also wait until your husband comes back from the army. You may find that what you believe to be love for the other man is merely infatuation.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO DR. BRADY, IN CARE OF THE GAZETTE.

SLOUCHY WOMEN.
Clothing probably has a great deal to do with the slouchy posture. So many young women seem to affect nowadays. Round shoulders, flat or sunken chest, plosor or sagging abdomen, one knee caving in, and protruded feet pointing outward when she walks—the fashionable young woman of the day evidently lacks something. The something is quite obvious—it is physical education.

Between the ages of 13 and 15—high school age—a vast number of girls go wrong physically for the simple reason that the educational authorities do not care whether students receive any physical training or not, as long as they pass their mental tests.

The more I learn about woman and her ills, and certainly I have still a whole lot to learn, the more I feel that, aside from the unhappiness and suffering which is caused to suffer as her recompense for man's beastliness, the most of her troubles are attributable to neglect of her physical education. The foundation for these troubles is laid at the age of 13 or thereabout, when she reaches the high school, discards her dolls, lengthens her skirts and begins to yearn for something resembling corsets and high-heeled shoes. And her foolish, ignorant, indulgent mother fails right in with the idea and encourages the budding woman to follow the same old path that made the way of the late lamented Lydia a bower of dollar bills.

At 13, if not before, a girl's physical education should certainly begin. From 13 to 18 years of age, she needs a reasonable amount of each day's time to the training of her body as well as improving her mind, for of what use is a sound mind in a weak or diseased body?

Any system of education which fails to provide for the physical training of the young woman is wrong. The high school or academy without a properly equipped gymnasium and capable physical instructors is far behind the times and no place for a twentieth century woman to receive her preliminary education.

Any girl unavailably sentenced to attend backward high schools need not despair. She may carry on her own physical training at home and acquire a normally developed body in spite of the penury of the community and the antiquated character of the schools provided. She can invest in a textbook of physical training which will aid her in building a strong, well-proportioned, vigorous body and keep her from degenerating into a caricature of her sex.

CLUB WOMEN GIVE REPORTS OF WORK AT MILTON MEETING

From Shakespeare to soup, and from art exhibits to baby clothes was the range of topics discussed by women's clubs during this past year, according to reports presented at the district convention held at Milton, yesterday. The work which has been the most vital work during this time, and nearly all the clubs present noted the adoption of one or more war orphans.

The Wednesday morning session devoted largely to business and reports from the officers. The president, Mrs. P. W. Dicker, in speaking of the past year, said that women had been keyed to unusual tension, and since the armistice there has been a feeling of relief. She said, however, that the work which has been done, and the federation has passed the sweet 16 age and reached the mature age of 17, but our work is still with us.

The club women, she insisted, had found out the valuable truth of cooperation, whether it was a house maids' union, or a league to enforce peace.

She mentioned the acquisition of two new clubs to the district during the past year. She suggested closer co-operation with the schools by the club women, and hoped that the women who had done war work might be enlisted to help in parent-teacher associations, and in the schools.

Urges Cooperation. She urged that women should do things nearest home, and that in the departments of the federation, the clubs, education, legislative, and health, all these ideas overlap, and are all bound up in the affairs of the community. Co-operation and publicity she considered most essential for club work. She hoped there would be a very general observance of Arbor day, by the planting of victory trees, and that the women of the first district would remember that in all the city work they were only preparing the ground for future deeds.

Report of the treasurer, Mrs. C. A. Sanborn, showed that there was a balance of $35.54 in the treasury when she took office. Bills to the amount of $84.12 were allowed, showing a surplus of $21.42. Mrs. N. C. Nelson, Racine, gave a report showing 101 letters written, five board meetings held, and two new clubs admitted to the district. She presented the membership list shows 47 clubs and 1,400 members.

The auditor, Mrs. R. C. Murdock, Racine, and the secretary, Mrs. G. E. Croxley, Milton, gave their reports.

Clubs Report Work. In the reports of club work given by the different clubs, that of the city federation of Beloit was most interesting, showing that it took in 14 clubs and about 100 individuals in its ranks. The reported committees of finance, rooms, food, Americanization, committee and educational. A recent committee on fellowship had arranged for several meetings. When speakers had been heard, and refreshments served by the different clubs as hostesses. Rubber sales, apron sales and rummage sales, together with a payment party had helped to provide funds for support of the federation work. Beloit Center has been the chief work of this organization, and the business men of the city are in the club of the movement. It was stated, Mrs. D. H. Pollock was president of the federation. There were about 500 members.

The Edgerton City Federation had about 130 members, and had paid for a city school nurse for a year or so, at a cost of $2,100. After the outbreak of smallpox, and the succeeding stage of vaccination with the school children, the school board voted to hire the school nurse. They have donated prizes for liberty gardens, have managed a musical Christmas tree, have held several open meetings with speakers, and done many other public spirited things.

Evansville Works With Schools. The Evansville clubs reported much work done with the school children and the parents by bringing them together. Two films had been given through their medium, and community singing was a regular feature of their club work. Elkhorn had specialized on the gathering of data of their soldiers in the war, and arranging it in files for preservation. Dodgevan had paid special attention through its women's club to home economics. Talks on fuel, sugar, food substitutes, home dressmaking, and an appetizing dairy lunch being some of the features.

Whitewater had made a record in French relief war work, holding sixth place in the United States in that respect. The clubs had done much work together, and all of them war work. A food sale netted them $100. The large Twentieth Century club, Racine, reported 96 members, and many departments such as dramatic, civic, educational, Americanization, literary, philanthropic and others. Many activities ranging from pure milk to made-over clothing, books and current events were noted by the president, Mrs. E. L. King.

Mrs. Ehringer Gives Report. The Janesville Art League, with 119 members, was reported by Mrs. Ehringer, who spoke of the French orphans adopted, the pictures by French artists shown by an exhibit, and three of them bought by the league. A exhibit of war posters, and 50 scrap books made for convalescent soldiers.

All kinds of war work, a French orphan and a varied program was reported by the Janesville Elkhorn club through Mrs. Fred Koebelin, and a record of war work and a French orphan, with several special programs, on present day topics by Mrs. E. H. Campbell. Mrs. Adair, Eastern Star Study class. The Janesville Athena class, with 20 members, was reported by Mrs. Adair, who, having had a two year program on social problems, with special attention to the status of women in Wisconsin.

The Village Improvement club of Milton, who adopted a French orphan, bought two liberty bonds, assisted the college in various ways, was standing back of a chaletauqua and had studied historical men. It was reported by Mrs. E. H. Campbell. Mrs. Adair, Brightman, Milton Junction, gave a report of the Portnightly club, which she said had two sections and had studied current war topics and the league of nations.

Orfordville Club Reports. The Study circle of Orfordville was reported by Mrs. B. E. Thoen, and Mrs. W. E. Ferris, Wautesha, one of the clubs of that city. Mrs. Walter Green, Evansville, was especially jubilant over the appointment of a county nurse for Rock county which had been brought about by the club women of the county, she showed, had helped very materially in bringing about the result.

Report of the work of the Janesville City Federation noted that they had about 600 members, had maintained a city rest room for three years, at a cost of $1,200, and assisted at a dental clinic which looked after the teeth of the school

The Daily Novelette

GETTING THE NEWS.

Professor Pibbles, Pitchburg's most absent-minded man, paused outside his home to think. A child was playing on his doorstep. He had often seen the child before. "What child was it? He would go in and see." So he took the boy by the hand and met Mrs. Pibbles coming down the stairs. She opened her arms to the boy and he rushed into them with a happy cry. "He's a beautiful child," smiled the professor. "Yes, dear, he certainly is," smiled Mrs. Pibbles, proudly. "Does he walk?" asked the Professor, with an unusual show of interest. "He's been walking for three months!" indignantly exclaimed Mrs. Pibbles, as she picked him up. "He-er-he must have come a long distance," commented the Professor, as he started to think of something else. Speechless, Mrs. Pibbles slammed the door shut on her finger. Still determined to find out, Professor Pibbles started after her. "Whose child is he?" he asked, showing some more interest. "Ours! Dumhead!" shrieked Mrs. Pibbles at the Professor, and two satirons followed the shriek, but ah! they never touched him!

Janes Will Play Edgerton Sunday

By George McManus.

BROKE BUT STILL GAME. TEAM WILL MAKE FIGHT

(By K. L. FAGON)

The Janes will play Edgerton Sunday if they have to walk there. Notwithstanding that there isn't enough money in the treasury to pay the transportation of the members of the team to Edgerton even on foot, most of the boys have signed their intentions of paying their own fare, subject to return out of the Janes share of the gate receipts.

A few loyal businessmen have offered to donate their automobiles for use Sunday in transporting the players over to Edgerton. If there are enough of these businessmen with cars who will donate them for this purpose, the Janes can motor over to Edgerton about 11 a. m. Sunday.

Another Bill Paid

Those ten dollars, due for the purchase of ten five-game strip tickets from a local business man, have not as yet put in an appearance. Four dollars came in Wednesday—two from Frank Burton and the Janesville Tire company, but they were called to pay for three bats. And still we ain't got any balls.

An agent representing the Edgerton baseball club breezed into town yesterday afternoon full of enthusiasm about the game between the Janes and Edgerton Sunday. He said the entire town of Edgerton would put a strong team into the field against the Janes.

Big Crowd Expected

The Edgerton agent declared that if it was a fair day, a crowd of 500 or 600 could be expected. He said that Manager Smith of the Edgerton Highway Trainers baseball team was willing to guarantee the expenses of the Janes in case of rain or mishap. So all the Janes have to do is collect enough money to pay their own fares and the Edgerton.

There were indications in Janesville today that a great crowd of local fans would take the trip to Edgerton Sunday if the weather was favorable.

Much Betting on Game

The Edgerton man said that there already was much betting in Edgerton on the result of Sunday's game, with the most money changing hands at even odds. He said the diamond was in perfect shape. The Janes will be glad to hear this for they have never yet this season played on a good diamond.

If the Janes can beat Edgerton Sunday, they will collect 60 per cent of the gate receipts, which should pay their expenses on the trip, the 335 owed on uniforms and several little incidental bills, such as telegraph and telephone, and then there is the full grounds' bill.

They must play and if there are any more loyal fans who feel that they will do more than their bit, and chip in a few dollars for the club this Sunday, get in touch with the writer quick. The fast Beloit Apprentices come to Janesville the following Sunday. The Sunday after that the Janes have a chance to go to Chicago.

Businessmen May Play

On Sunday, May 25, the writer is thinking of bringing together here at the fair grounds a team composed of representative businessmen and merchants and the Janes. Several widely-known businessmen and merchants already have signed their willingness to become a part of a businessmen's team, which would take on the Janesville club at the fair grounds. Among the businessmen are several former big league players and it is believed that not one could be arranged. Additional details on the businessmen-Janes contest will be announced soon.

Proof that Janesville is getting on the baseball map of the country was clearly shown this morning when a letter showed up from the fast-stopping Cuban Giants of Chicago. They want the first open date in Janesville for the 1919 record of the Chicago team: 13 wins, 2 defeats and 3 tie games out of 19 starts. The team—known more commonly as the Havana Stars—is composed of negroes and Cubans and has already proved a big drawing card. A game with them very likely will be contracted for some time in June.

Bond on the Job

A letter also showed up this morning from Howard Bond, the capable, fighting little third baseman of Lake Forest (Ill.) Athletics. Bond offered the name of a first-class pitcher and ended up by wishing the Janes all the luck in the world, and saying he would be with the team in a few weeks. Bond is coming to Janesville for the summer season as the present school semester ends.

The writer has been trying to find Harry Britt all week. If anyone sees the well-known and vivacious player, please tell him that he's wanted on second base Sunday, and to communicate with the writer immediately. Viney will play left field Sunday. Kubus, in center, and probably Menzel in right, if "Big Ben" wants to go to Edgerton under the same agreement and proposition financially as the rest of the players.

No Salaries Sunday

No salaries will be paid to anyone Sunday. We hope we will not lose little Tommy Crooke by this, but even if we do, there is no money in the club's kick and we'll have to do the best we can without high salaried talent.

The writer wants Nellie Dopp, Tommy Crooke, Viney, Green (the Indian), George Berger, Dick, Pire, Britt and any others who have been with the Janes to phone, call, write or see the writer at once about next Sunday's game.

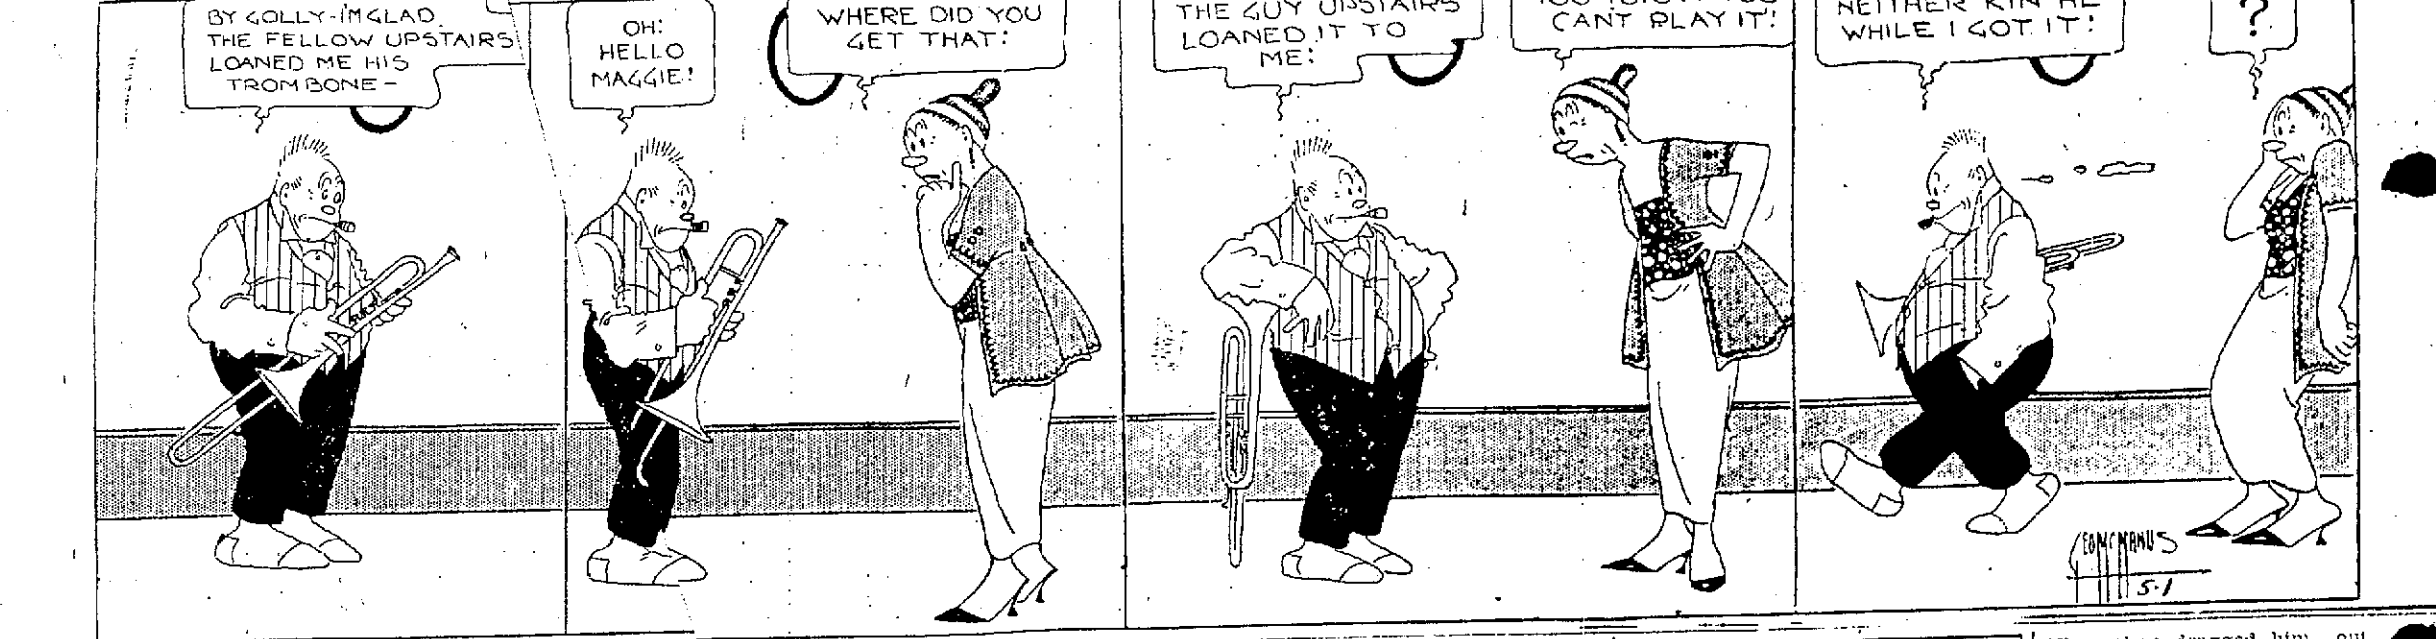

The members of the Janes probably will motor over to Edgerton about 11 a. m. Sunday if enough donated cars can be secured.

The Janes still need about $50, and if there was the proper voluntary loyalty in Janesville as there is in Edgerton, the city would always have a root team.

Lineup of Edgerton

Manager Smith of the Edgerton team talked to Manager Fagon of the Janes over the long distance telephone this morning, and gave the lineup of

RECHIE IS THROUGH

San Francisco, May 1.—Willie Ritchie, former lightweight champion, in a telegram to friends today for the second time announced his retirement from the ring. He said his failure last night to defeat Benny Leonard, lightweight titleholder at Newark, N. J., was due to overexcitement. Ritchie announced his retirement a few weeks ago, prior to a match with Leonard here, in which he received a newspaper decision.

NOTRE DAME STARS HURT.

Notre Dame, Ind., May 1.—Earl Gillilan, mainstay of the Notre Dame track team, may not compete in outdoor track meets this spring. He injured his knee at Penn. last week and will not compete against Illinois on Saturday. ## CLAUSON AVERAGES 255 IN THREE GAMES

An average of 255 pins for three successive games was the record established at the West Side alleys yesterday by M. Clauson, shark, who holds the East Side Alley record. Clauson hit 219 in his first game, 269 in his second and 278 in his third for a total count of 766 pins.

He led off with 5 straight strikes in his third game, took a spare on his ninth ball, and struck out, getting 9 on his last ball.

Some question arose as to whether or not he had broken a world's record but investigation showed that Harry D. Reed, Omaha, bowled 846 in three games, February 15, 1905, and that Mickey Prey bowling at Oshkosh in 1916 averaged 282 for five games.

Clauson is captain and manager of the Colts bowling team which issues a challenge to any team in southern Wisconsin.

SPORT SERIAL

(By K. L. FAGON)

We got a letter this morning from the manager of the Masked Marvel in which the marvel is quoted as saying that "that Greek person will get one of the worst trimmings in his life here next Tuesday night." It should be some match, more so because of the fact that the winner of the bout will carry away the entire receipts.

"Red" Ormsby, former twirler for the Janesville Cardinals and seen several times in a uniform of the Beloit Fairies, has organized a team of his own in Chicago, after being denied admittance to the Chicago League. "Red" recently returned from France, where he served with the marines.

SOME QUEEN

You couldn't tell by the weather. You'd guess it was winter, I know. But I'm Queen of the May, Mother. Yax, I'm Queen of the May.

Some people can't afford to be sick and others are sick anyway.

All life terms are not handed down by jurists. Look at the marriage licenses.

We still have $7.30 and no baseballs to throw about Sunday. Where are these well-known good samaritans and angels?

SOME BAIT

There's a fisherman in town who fell in the river Wednesday morning.

When they dragged him out, found 341 minnows in his pocket.

All the players should report 15 days before Sunday. There's lots to be done before Sunday. The team could not have practiced thus far this week because of the inclement weather, but the sun should shine before Sunday. All the players owning baseballs are urged to donate them for practice.

FAMOUS THRILLS

The road to Beloit. New-Style peckaban wabes. Trying to borrow 5. Seven Days' Leave. Sweet Cookies!

The bible says it rained for 40 days and 40 nights. That must have been the year Washington won the A. L. flag.

There's a young damsel in town who says she doesn't think the D. S. C. "is so much." Try and get one.

A little boy annoyed a postoffice clerk by asking a number of foolish questions. Finally he rushed up to the window again and held up a letter. "Will this letter be in Milwaukee tomorrow night?" he asked the clerk. "YES, IT WILL," thundered the clerk. "OW, HEAT IT!" "You're a squint-eyed liar," said the boy. "It's going to St. Louis."

EVERYBODY ON THEIR FEET SUNDAY.

And bet on the Janes. SO LONG, FELLERIES.

Smokeless Fuel.

It has been discovered that anthracite culm mixed with about 80 per cent of soft coal makes a good smokeless fuel.
